

Question 6

- a) the causal claim is that face to face interaction increased voter turnout
- b) Receiving the face to face contact from the coalition of students
- c) The outcome variable is voter turnout
- d) The fact that these findings were in line with other findings allowed the group to claim their findings were causal